The Bellagio is built on the grounds of another famous casino, the notorious Dunes. The Dunes opened in the Fifties, and was plagued by controversy throughout its life. It was the first casino-hotel in Vegas to offer a topless show in 1957, and it was widely suspected of having strong links to the mafia.

You'll find no 6-5 Blackjack games at Bellagio. On the casino floor, I counted a total of 63 blackjack games (leaving the other 18 in the high limit rooms) There were a great deal of $10 blackjack games (Continuous Shuffler, Hit Soft 17, at 0.66% house edge). As well, there were four deck and two deck games available at $25 to $100 denominations. Early in the morning, $5 blackjack was also offered. Blackjack variants included Blackjack Switch and Super Fun 21. The $10 tables were usually staffed in the daytime by gruff and aging men and women. I would rate the Casino itself as first class, but I think the staff is not particularly friendly, with a bit of snootiness and attitude. The "Baccarat Bar" high limit room was especially snobby, but with minimums at $100 for Blackjack, Bacarrat, and Roulette, it's understandable. Behind a set of curtains in that room is Club Prive, which features a very classy bar featuring rare spirits and more baccarat and blackjack tables. Club Prive is open only to "VIPs" and high rollers. A set of elevators there connect you to the top floors of Bellagio. Here is a summary of the games:

The Bellagio is on the Strip opposite the Paris and next to Caesars- right bang in the middle of the action in other words- actually it dominates the strip when its magic fountains are going (or should we say Lake Bellagio- it was Pink Panther night when we were there). The actual hotel and casino is set back nicely behind the water feature.

In its storied past, the Bellagio highlighted both the good and bad of a discretionary comp system. Managers may have had guidelines to follow based on play, but comps were given out more on a discretionary basis and less on hard data like they are today with the comprehensive M Life loyalty rewards program

We played a variety of games at Bellagio, including Blackjack, Craps, Pai Gow poker, video poker and slots. We did not have a great deal of luck during our stay. Blackjack tables were absolutely terrible for us and the craps tables were not much better. Slot machine play seemed to be very tight especially below the $.25 level (which is to be expected).

The lockable mini-fridge and snack tray above were weight sensitive & you were immediately charged for any goods that you lifted (a warning was issued at the front desk) The mini-fridge was well stocked with various liquors, champagnes, beers, wines, water, and soft drinks. There was very little room to put your own items in. Prices ranged from $4 for a Coke, $5 for beer, $8 for liquors, and upwards from there. Minutes after check-in, one of the service personnel brought us a bag of ice for us. There was no coffee maker.

The Bellagio Sportsbook, tucked away behind a bar and the poker room, was fairly upscale. As it was the first main day of baseball season and the final NCAA men's basketball tournament game, the Sportsbook was busy and a lot of fun. The chairs were very comfortable and there were about 150 individual stations where you could watch your sporting even on televisions. There is also a very nice bar bordering the sports books where you can celebrate your latest win.

The bathroom was very well appointed. There was a bathtub on the left, a single sink, and a glass-enclosed large shower. Drawers and shelves held hand towels and a hair dryer, There was also a scale (which was not working). Accoutrements included large bottles of shampoo, conditioner, body lotion, mouthwash, soaps, and a shower cap. Unfortunately, on the first morning the shower was only warm, which was quite a disappointment.

When we arrived on Sunday afternoon, the registration area was quite busy. Each agent had a separate line, leaving you to the whims of the parties in front of you to determine how long you had to wait, which could be frustrating if you had a slow party in front of you. As well, the general public could intermingle with the registration line as well, leading to confusion. As a result of our poor choice, we had about a ten minute wait before we were served, with only one party in front of us.

In addition to the wild symbol and scatter symbol, 100 Pandas also has several other great features. The wild symbol is a group of three pandas, which will substitute for any other symbol except for the scatter symbol (the Yin Yang). When three or more of these symbols land on the paylines, they will trigger a free spins feature. During this bonus round, any coinciding winnings across different pay lines are added to your total bet.

This reputation is not undeserved, and the Bellagio's commitment to excellence is renowned. Indeed, it has been awarded the coveted Five Diamond Award by the AAA – an honor bestowed on less than 0.25% of the hotels the AAA inspects – on more than ten consecutive occasions.

Given the hotel rate, the quality of the resort, and its location, I feel that the rate is a good value, especially midweek. The resort is one of the top three on the strip (often compared to the Wynn) and is indeed luxurious in every way. However, I feel that the hotel could do much better from its drink services, to its dealers' attitude, to the room maintenance. For the price, I expect the experience both in the hotel and casino to be perfect, and it wasn't.

The rooms at the Bellagio are legendary- even the entry level ones are over 500 square feet- not exactly pokey. And the design feels right- they haven't gone for a cheesy Renaissance look here- it's just elegance and great views of the city, especially in the "Tower" rooms.

Las Vegas' most recognizable tourist attraction, the fountains dance to music every ½ hour during the day (3pm on weekdays, noon on weekends), and every 15 minutes starting at 8pm. Do not miss this show, and because the display is different every time, it is worthwhile to watch several shows. The best place to watch the show is either from one of the restaurants and lounges in the Bellagio or from any vantage point along Lake Como. Music is chosen from a selection of Opera, Classical, and Broadway tunes.
