While real sports leagues can be on or off according to their own schedule, virtual sports are happening 24/7 at a much faster pace than major leagues from around the world. Instead of being tied to actual games played by the pros, virtual sports at the Bovada online casino are entirely simulated by computer and the random number generator.

Matches take place in minutes, so you can place your bets pretty much as often as you like. There's also stats and standings, so you can see which virtual sports team is doing well and which isn't. This lets you make sense of the underdogs, favorites, and odds.

Whatever your sport is, check out the virtual sports betting at Bovada and you might be able to find a game no matter what time or day (or year) it is.
