The good thing about casino platforms is that they interconnect different casinos in a way. There is a way in which this relates to the self-exclusion lists. Namely, the player could enter the self-exclusion list in one particular casino. But what has she or he done, in the end? He or she has only excluded themselves from one casino. There's nothing to prevent them from depositing and losing their money in other online casinos. Or is there?

Well, indeed there is. The new casinos using the same casino platform interconnects in terms of the exclusion lists. For example, you can be excluded from playing in one particular online casino. This means that all of the other casinos that use the same platform will have you on their own exclusion lists, too. You will get banned from approximately 20-50 casinos if you enter a self-exclusion list in one casino.

We understand the importance of fast processing and check-outs. At EU9 online casino Malaysia, we ensure clients with the most straightforward checkout experience.
