Good for playing time to time but not the best. Had a few problems which couldn't be helped by support causing me to lose around £100 thanks to an error while displaying how much bank balance I had. Also having to log out and back in everytime you deposit

If you want lose your money or never win play paddy power, other companies will sometimes win, but paddy power just lost here. Manipulates the game. I've taken a movie from their cheating. There is no random. Please do not play. I've never won and my friends are the same.

Awful app, paid out a few times when won but after a few goes it refused, so any bet that I won on the roulette table it came up with an "error" box then refunded my bet. Not what you want when you have basically doubled your money. But when you lose they are very quick to take the money and surprisingly have never had an "error" box when that happens. Very disappointed in paddy power as though they were a respected company.

Perhaps you don't watch much television, but if you do then you are sure to be aware of the name Paddy Power. The Irish based betting corporation is indeed very well known within the gambling world for its tongue in cheek television advertisement campaigns in the UK and Ireland.

However, the impetus on those marketing efforts is primarily on promoting the company's sportsbook betting service, so many punters might be pleasantly surprised to learn that the firm also offers an online casino that is stocked with a wide variety of slot machine games by Playtech and Ash Gaming.

Casino power download paddy

Naturally, players can expect the utmost level of safety and fair play when it comes to the service provided by this big betting business, with all of the necessary licensing and security procedures put in place. Although, having said that, there have been a number of complaints from unhappy punters, which is to be expected from a casino with such a large player base.

We could write a whole article about the story of Paddy Power, such is the illustrious history of the Dublin based betting corporation which was established in 1988. However, we'll keep it short and sweet by letting you know that the company currently owns more than 300 brick and mortar betting shops which can be found dotted around the high streets of the UK and Ireland.

Online, the gambling firm has branched out to cater to a worldwide audience of bettors who are after top-quality sports betting, casino games, poker tournaments and bingo halls.

It goes without saying that Paddy Power Casino is completely up to scratch when it comes to all of the necessary licensing measures – no casino or other betting brand could ever take sure a large share of the market if it didn't play by the rules of the industry. There are in fact two licenses listed on the website, one of which is issued by the UK Gambling Commission for players based in Great Britain, and another from the Alderney

Gambling Control Commission for players who reside outside of the UK. Speaking of which, punters from all over the world can join in on the gambling entertainment as long as their country of residence is listed in the registration process. Some of the most notable countries that are absent on the list include the United States, France, Italy, Germany and Spain.

It is inevitable for a casino of this size and popularity to be at the end of some criticism. After all, not every one of the millions of players to use the casino is going to be smitten with the service. Some of the more notable complaints available to read on the internet cite problems regarding confiscation of winnings and refusals of withdrawals. In some of the cases it appears as if the casino did make an effort to amend the situation, however there also appears to be cases in which the casino didn't acknowledge the customer's complaint. Of course, this is a cause for concern and, as with any online casino, players should exercise caution when playing at Paddy Power Casino.

If patrons do run into any trouble, they can contact the casino directly using the live chat portal available.

Despite its relatively big name and aggressive marketing campaigns, Paddy Power Casino doesn't actually offer anything overly mind blowing when it comes to the slot machines. There are 137 video slots listed in the games lobby, which sounds like a lot, but in reality is quite a small amount compared to other casinos on the internet. Nonetheless, there is plenty of exciting spinning action thanks to the employment of Playtech software – the main slot machine provider at the casino.

Playtech has a stellar reputation for creating games that are epic by nature – just look at their vast range of branded slot machines which feature popular Marvel characters such as Iron Man, The Incredible Hulk, Spiderman and Elektra. On top of that, there are some other games which just ooze power and adventure such as the new Age of the Gods series which takes on the theme of Ancient Greek mythology. Those Age of the Gods games also come with the chance to win one of four progressive jackpots.

Casino power download paddy

It's not all explosive action and mythical gods, however, because players can enjoy some slightly tamer games with some comical and novelty themes courtesy of Playtech and Ash Gaming. There is Jungle Trouble, for example, from Ash Gaming with features a cheeky Mowgli like character and three sets of free spins. Other titles with a fun and free feel include Foxy Fortunes, Vacation Station and Cowboys & Aliens. Ash Gaming also offer up some games specifically targeted at the British spinning market, such as Little Britain and Britain's Got Talent.

Players who are after something of a more classic calibre can enjoy a range of roulette and blackjack games at Paddy Power Casino, some of which involve live croupiers for more realistic gameplay. There are also some other table and card games such as Sic Bo, Craps, Baccarat and

If you're after something completely different, you can always check out the 'Instant Win' section of the site which features branded scratch cards like Rocky, Kong and Monty Pythons Spamalot as well as unique gambling games like Rubik's Riches, Medusas Gaze and Cash Blox.

As a well-established online casino with such a popular reputation, players can rightfully expect to find an ample number of banking options at Paddy Power Casino. The only currencies available are Great British Pounds and Euros to cater for the main target audience of the casino, but there are loads of different methods available for deposits and withdrawals. Paddy Power Casino presents a fairly decent online casino that is stocked with ample slot machines and other games as well as sufficiently convenient and reliable payment methods. Admittedly, this casino service does not offer the biggest selection of slot machines in the entire world of online gambling, and it has suffered from a few customer complaints – which is unavoidable for a casino of this size and stature.

Nonetheless, the casino remains a perfectly good and safe choice, perhaps for players who want to start their online gambling endeavours with a familiar and well-respected name.

Four of the reviewers who work regularly for this site have held accounts with Paddy Power Casino for a year or more. All report very positive experiences.

It should be noted in this review that while Paddy Power are a very large and well-funded group, they have a history of management policies that border on unprofessional. To be clearer, they have on several occasions offered bets that could be construed as ethically bankrupt – such as a bet on when Polar Bears will go extinct and another that is widely viewed as a bet on whether US President Barak Obama will be assassinated.

Power paddy casino download

In early 2015 this form was continued when they made tasteless tweets referencing the death of Eric Garner and other African Americans in police custody.

Alongside this, in quite a high profile case stemming from Shane Lowry's 2009 victory at the Irish Open, Paddy Power refused to pay out on 3000:1 odds that they'd initially offered saying that they'd reached an agreement with the players involved. The nature of this agreement seems to have been very one sided with a lot of pressure supposedly having been exerted on said players.

In the last two years there have been a couple of concerning incidents involving Paddy Power. The first relates to a tournament where they changed the terms of the promotion then retroactively applied the rules. It's one thing to change the terms and conditions from the point of change forward, but when you retroactively change the rules - due to your mistake - players who would not have played in the promotions if the new rules had been there from the start are left with no recourse.

Betfair casino are one of the largest online casinos currently in operation, but ran into substantial issues due to a very poorly designed promotion in 2010.

Power casino paddy download

The Happy Hour promotion offered players the opportunity to claim an unlimited number of 50% up to £100 bonuses with a 10x bonus wagering requirement during a 4 hour period one Saturday during November. This bonus was massively over generous and gave even unskilled slots players who did not play substantially more than the wagering requirement a sizable edge over the casino.

Unsurprisingly, Betfair lost a hefty amount of money before they realised their mistake. Rather than paying players who had legitimately won on this promotion, Betfair chose to rectify their mistake by locking the accounts of players who participated in the Happy Hour promotions and confiscate winnings from players. There are also reports that they redeposited funds from players eWallet accounts to their Betfair accounts then confiscated their winnings and even one account that suggested that withdrawn funds have been taken out of a player's bank account without permission.

Paddy download casino power

Alongside this, Betfair made clear that they were not interested in discussing any player complaints related to this incident with any 3rd party mediation services and became uncommunicative with affected players.

The Paddy Power Welcome bonus currently consists of a £10 No Deposit Bonus plus a bonus of 100% up to £200.
