Club Player is a very nice looking online casino supported by the excellent titles that Realtime Gaming have to offer. First impressions of Club Player are very positive and the 450% signup bonus certainly looks appealing, but on closer inspection it is difficult to completely ascertain what this offer is or what it entails. That confusion manifests itself again in several areas of the site, and although these mistakes may be the product of oversight rather than of a genuine intention to mislead it doesn't boost confidence for punters who are looking to shop around for a new casino.

Club Player has a few but convenient and (mostly) USA friendly online casino payment and withdrawal methods. There are four deposit methods available and four withdrawal methods.

US players will choose Bitcoin, Visa, or MasterCard for deposits because Neteller is not available in the USA. It is not appealing that Club Player has so few options for American players to make deposits. Hopefully, this will change with time. Check for the minimum and maximum withdrawal requirements for the banking option you choose.

Genesis online casino review

Club Player Casino is one of those casino sites which tries to capture the excitement and mood of a night in Vegas, with dark nighttime colours and a little bit of gold thrown into the mix. What it doesn't try to do is overwhelm you with a thousand slot titles and offers, which is something a few of their competitors could learn from. Front and centre of the page we see the welcome offer at Club Player which is a 450% sign-up bonus. As always be assured that there are conditions to meeting this, but we'll examine the opaque details later. Beneath the banner with the promotional sign-up offer there lies a few options including instant play, premium play and toll free chat. Scrolling further down a list of some of the slots titles available are on display with this taking up a maximum of 10 titles in a 5x2 configuration. It is enough to give you a flavour for what the site offers without swamping you. Instant play indicates the fact that no download is required to join in the games at Club Player, although they do have software you can elect to download.
