Four years after its establishment, Dodge created its first model, the 30, marketed as a slightly more upscale competitor to the ubiquitous Ford Model T with the features like all-steel body construction, 12-volt electrical system, 35 horsepower, and sliding-gear transmission. By 1916, sales of the 30 achieved Dodge the second place behind Ford in America's auto market. The famous Power Wagon, debuted after the World War II, is powered by Dodge's first-ever V8, that made Dodge a performance brand in 1953. A decade later, the Dart came out with innovative features like a Thin Film Transistor or TFT instrument cluster, a MultiAir Turbo Engine Technology, Dual Dry Clutch Transmission or DDCT, and Active Grille Shutters. All these made the Dart a best seller at that time. Up till today, the Dodge is highly recognized for its line of quality trucks. Dodge Ram trucks, in fact, were among the country's bestselling vehicles.
