Vehicle accidents are costly to our company, but more importantly, they may result in injury to you or others. It is the driver's responsibility to operate the vehicle in a safe manner and to drive defensively to prevent injuries and property damage. As such, employers endorses all applicable state motor vehicle regulations relating to driver responsibility. The employer expects each driver to drive in a safe and courteous manner pursuant to the following safety rules. The attitude you take when behind the wheel is the single most important factor in driving safely. Fleet Administration, Security, and the Fleet Safety Committee are responsible for general administration of this policy. Reviewing driving records of individual employees and making recommendations to Executive Management when driving privileges should be suspended or revoked.<http://sooam.com/files/fckeditor/7311858765f5bd61d5bbc9.xml>

Reviewing all other issues that arise with respect to compliance with this policy. Failure to do so may result in disciplinary action, including termination of employment. 3. All accidents in company vehicles, regardless of severity, must be reported to the police and to the Security and Fleet offices. Accidents are to be reported immediately from the scene, during the same day, or as soon as practicable if immediate or same day reporting is not possible. Accidents involving the employee's personal injury must be reported to Human Resources for Worker's Compensation purposes. It does not include normal commuting to and from work. Employees are expected to drive in a safe and responsible manner and to maintain a good driving record. The Fleet Safety Committee is responsible for reviewing records, including accidents, moving violations, etc., to determine if an employee's driving record indicates a pattern of unsafe or irresponsible driving, and to make a recommendation to Executive Management for suspension or revocation of driving privileges. Chargeable means that the driver is determined to be the primary cause of the accident through speeding, inattention, etc. Contributing factors, such as weather or mechanical problems, will be taken into consideration. The vehicle engine must be shut off, ignition keys removed, and vehicle doors locked whenever the vehicle is left unattended. 7. Head lights shall be used 2 hour before sunset and until 2 hour after sunrise, or during inclement weather or at anytime when a distance of 500 feet ahead of the vehicle cannot be clearly seen. 8. All State and Local laws must be obeyed.

Drivers should keep a two second interval between their vehicle and the vehicle immediately ahead. During slippery road conditions, the following distance should be increased to at least four seconds. Drivers must yield the right of way at all traffic control signals and signs requiring them to do so. <http://www.romanor.eu/userfiles/craftsman-dls-3500-manual.xml>

Drivers should also be prepared to yield for safety's sake at any time. Pedestrians and bicycles in the roadway always have the right of way. Drivers must honor posted speed limits. In adverse driving conditions, reduce speed to a safe operating speed that is consistent with the conditions of the road, weather, lighting, and volume of traffic. Tires can hydroplane on wet pavement at speeds as low as 40 mph. Radar Detectors are strictly prohibited in company Vehicles. Drivers are to drive at the speed of traffic but never to exceed the posted speed limit. Turn signals must be used to show where you are heading; while going into traffic and before every turn or lane change. When passing or changing lanes, view the entire vehicle in your rear view mirror before pulling back into that lane. Be alert of other vehicles, pedestrians, and bicyclists when approaching intersections. Never speed through an intersection on a caution light. When the traffic light turns green, look both ways for oncoming traffic before proceeding. When waiting to make left turns, keep your wheels facing straight ahead. If rear ended, you will not be pushed into the lane of oncoming traffic. When stopping behind another vehicle, leave enough space so you can see the rear wheels of the car in front. This allows room to go around the vehicle if necessary, and may prevent you from being pushed into the car in front of you if you are rear ended. Avoid backing where possible, but when necessary, keep the distance traveled to a minimum and be particularly careful. Do not back around a corner or into an area of no visibility. Call for medical aid if necessary. Call the police. All accidents, regardless of severity, must be reported to the police. If the driver cannot get to a phone, he should write a note giving location to a reliable appearing motorist and ask him to notify the police.

Record names and addresses of driver, witnesses, and occupants of the other vehicles and any medical personnel who may arrive at the scene. Complete the form located in the Vehicle Accident Packet. Pertinent information to obtain includes license number of other drivers; insurance Do not accept any responsibility for the accident. Don't argue with anyone. 3. Provide the other party with your name, address, drivers license number, and insurance information. 4. Immediately report the accident to the Security and Fleet offices. Please note that all such forms and policies should be reviewed by your legal counsel for compliance with applicable law, and should be modified to suit your organization's culture, industry, and practices. And, spoiler alert even after you've been driving for a while, you're still going to have questions about road rules, no matter how comprehensive your drivers ed course was. It details how to get a drivers license, important road rules like right of way, tips for handling emergencies, and so much more. The easiest way is to navigate to your state's drivers licensing agency's website and view the handbook online. You can also download it so you have your own copy, or you can pick up a physical copy of a DMV handbook when you're at your licensing agency's office. In our modern world, technology is going to continue to have an impact on driving, and that's going to affect traffic laws. With our online resource, you'll always have access to your state's drivers handbook, which means you'll be able to see the latest changes when they go into effect. You'll always be up to date, and if that means avoiding traffic tickets and other hassles, it's a huge benefit to you. If you're still using your beatup copy of your drivers handbook from back when you took drivers ed, you may be getting outdated information. While reading about driving rules is not the same thing as following them when you're behind the wheel, you'll be a lot better off if you have a thorough understanding of safe driving practices. This knowledge will help prevent you from getting traffic tickets and being involved in car accidents, which means you'll also enjoy a lower car insurance rate. What could be better than that. So even if you've already got your drivers license, be sure you're regularly brushing up on your driving safety information. You and other drivers on the road will be glad you did. Get a Quote.
