

The Lazy Bear

There are seven animals in the forest. They are Rabbit, Goat, Tiger, Lion, Duck, Goose, and Bruno the Bear. They are good friends. They always work and play together.

It is spring now. The leaves are growing and the animals wake up to work. Rabbit meets Goat and says, "What will you do after work?" "I'll go hiking with Tiger. Look! Bruno is still asleep." says Goat. "He's always lazy." says Rabbit.

It's summer now. It's getting warm and the animals are having lots of fun. Lion meets Tiger and says, "What will you do tonight?" "I'll visit a friend. Listen! Bruno is snoring." says Tiger. "What a lazy bear!" says Lion.

It's fall now. The leaves are turning red and orange. The animals have enough food for winter. They're having a barbecue party. "What will you do after party?" asks Duck. "I'll go swimming. Look! Bruno is still asleep." says Goose. "What a lazy bear!" says Duck.

It's winter now. All the animals are asleep in their warm homes. But where's Bruno? He wakes up and says, "What a nice and long sleep! Oh! It's snowing. It's winter now. I am so hungry."
