According to the most recent gambling statistics available for Canada, 65% of Canadians prefer playing the lottery. As well, 36% prefer the so-called lucky scratchies, and 22% of gamblers indicate casinos, online casinos in particular, as their favourite gambling activity. More than half of the latter, around 70%, prefer playing slot machines. Roulette games attract 13% of players, and just 5% of gamblers are playing blackjack.

Total Canada's gambling industry earned $2.64 billion in revenue in 2021, with $1.2 billion in revenue reached in online gambling, online casino gambling included, which accounts for almost 50% of the total sector's revenue and which is in line with the global trend of online gambling spread.

The legislation responsibilities have been delegated to provinces, considered to be the main stakeholders when it comes to an online casino or a poker room establishment authorization. The full powers have been granted to local bodies in 1985, and since then the sphere of influence remains untouched (therefore, only the provinces are eligible to authorize a gambling establishment).

According to Google Trends data, in 2022 online casino has a popularity score of 100 out of 100 in Nunavut, the newest and the largest territory of Canada with a population of only 38,000 people most of whom actually love to gamble. Nunavut's interest in online gambling far outweighs other provinces and actually, this phenomenon can be easily explained.

In fact, the organization holds the power to license, regulate and monitor game-of-chance activities located in Alberta. The province occupies the second position on the list of the major Canadian gambling provinces, ceding the leadership to Ontario, which demonstrates the highest number of casino players, with online casino gamblers among them. The organization is characterized by a relatively loyal (by the standards of Canada) attitude towards gambling activities and/or enterprises, looking forward to conducting their business in Alberta. Therefore, AGLC adopted a far-famed charitable license model that helps dozens of organizations to raise funds for a particular project.

In Nunavut, the Department of Community and Government Services is responsible for monitoring all land-based and online casino gambling activities. This authority is also in charge of issuing licenses to casino operators, but up to now, there are none of the land-based casinos operating in the territory. That's why no wonder that gambling-loving residents of Nunavut look forward to playing the casino online.

The most minor popularity of online casinos in 2022 demonstrate Alberta, Quebec and British Columbia showing a score of 10 and less (out of 100). Such a decrease in online gambling interest can be, most probably, justified by Canada's re-opening of all its gambling establishments after the coronavirus pandemic with most of them concentrated exactly in these provinces.

The 2021 year's outsider, Newfoundland and Labrador, whose 2021 least online casino popularity (only 19 out of 100) still decreased (14 out of 100) finds itself right in the middle of the 2022 statistical chart together with such other provinces as Saskatchewan and Ontario.

Secondly, the smart online casino providers try to increase the number of gamers by creating really user-friendly mobile applications for gadget lovers. Besides, these applications can interact and get easily connected to other apps, such as payment apps, for instance, installed on mobile devices.

The mobile games market in general, and the mobile online casino market in particular, still bear an enormous potential for growth in Canada in the next years to come. Thus, the revenue in the mobile games segment is projected to reach $0.75 billion in 2022 with the revenue growth reaching 13.4%. The total projected Canadian market volume is expected to value at $1.10 billion by 2026. As well, the number of users in the mobile games segment is forecast to amount to 14.1 million users by 2026.

In fact, from just an average of 2,000 internet searches per month for online casinos in Canada in 2015, monthly visitor queries shot up to 16,000 in 2021.

So, online casino gamblers, tired of lockdowns and longing for live communication and live music started preferring good old land-based casinos to online casino platforms.

We can see that a lottery slip is a thing mostly relied on and paid for by Canadians. Why so? The fact is that the lottery is so embedded in the nation's mentality that the majority of people just don't even see it as gambling similar to online casinos, for instance. Besides, lottery tickets bought on average once a week involve less spending and less stress as it is a less intense and slower-paced type of gambling.

The cost of building and equipping a permanent casino is estimated at 40-50 million Canadian dollars, approximately. Establishing a temporary casino (including ships and hotel rooms) is cheaper (40 – 60%). The price of a legal Canadian casino operating in full accordance with the provincial regulations starts from CA$80 million. To establish an online casino Canada, you might need from CA$500,000 to CA$2 million, approximately.

I gave USAA the opportunity to do the right thing by their insured and pay the limits. And USAA refused.

I gathered up Tim's medical bills. I gathered his accident report, property damage estimate, and pictures from his motor vehicle. I wrote a demand letter that told USAA Tim's story. The bad driver insured by USAA had $10,000.00 in insurance coverage. I demanded USAA pay the $10,000.00. In exchange, I made it clear that if USAA paid the full policy limits we would walk away and not sue the bad driver. We would not take him to court, take his deposition. We would not ask for any additional money from the bad driver.
