Casino Rewards has 29 brands under its belt, and Players Palace Casino is one of them. All associated casinos run on a Microgaming platform, either downloadable or usable online. In this casino's case, you can opt for both. The parent company for all gambling sites is Apollo Entertainment Ltd, a high-revenue corporation. Throughout the years, it managed to accrue over $26 million in sales.

Most of the Casino Rewards websites began their activity in the early 2000s, with this one being one of the most recent. It opened in 2007.

All gambling activities here receive regulation from the Kahnawake Gaming Commission, which is one of the few Canadian institutions to offer licenses to offshore operators. In addition, the website is licensed by UK Gambling Commission and MGA.

Gamblers in Canada can access the platform in two ways. You can enter the site from the search engine, or you can download the computer application. However, when we did this Players Palace Casino review, we noticed that the application comes with a rather old-fashioned design. The online platform doesn't look very modern either.

Those who access the platform on the Internet must keep in mind that the interface looks different once you create an account. It is quite easy to navigate. However, it was a little bit complicated to find the Terms and Conditions section.

Players that decide to join the platform must fill the registration form with details such as:

Once the account is created, you'll receive an activation email on the address used to register on the platform.

If you have multiple accounts, the site reserves the right to suspend these accounts and confiscate any winnings associated with them. The same measure applies in case you disclose your account login details to others.

The gambling site will consider your account dormant if you don't make any wagers or bets or if you do not make transactions within a period. Those who cannot successfully complete the verification process will have their accounts closed. Also, the website won't process any withdrawals until the additional checks are done.

To make deposits, you have to choose between Visa, Mastercard, Interac, ElectronicCheck, Instant Payment by Citadel, Instadebit, Interac Instant, MuchBetter, and iDebit, for starters. However, there are many other options.

Withdrawals are possible via Visa, Mastercard, Interac e-transfer, iDebit, and Instadebit. Regardless of the method, the minimum deposit stands at C$5. When you withdraw cash, the sum must be at least C$50. Generally, there are no maximum withdrawals, except for a specific situation. However, players who gain significant amounts across all Casino Rewards brands have a payout limit: C$4000 per week.

As for timeframes, know that a withdrawal request will process in around 72 hours total.

You will find over 420 gaming products at this casino. They are helpfully sorted by categories, as follows:

You have the option of viewing the newest or most popular titles, too. Moreover, by typing a name into the search bar (top right of the page), you may look for individual products. On the other hand, we could not find any provider list, so you cannot filter your options this way.

The website has a lower-than-average game count. Furthermore, there are very few providers. We did discover the suppliers, though, and they are Microgaming, Crazy Tooth Studio, IGT, Evolution Gaming, and Snowborn Games.

On this website, most bonuses are matchups. New players can opt for a sign-up bonus and a welcome package consisting of three deposits.

The website's terms state that you must wager the first and second match deals 200 times; from the third deposit on, the staking conditions drop down to 30x.

Regardless of the incentive you claimed, different game categories will weigh differently to your wagering conditions. For instance, slots have 100% contribution, while most table games contribute 50%. So, to cash out from an offer, Canadians must stake C$20000 on slots, supposing they received a C$100 incentive.

Moreover, all Players Palace Casino bonuses you had at the time will disappear, along with all associated winnings.

The casino takes responsible gaming seriously – you have both self-serve and support-based solutions. If you take the self-assessment test available on the site and conclude that you deal with problem gambling, there are options like:

Keep in mind that if you want to increase your deposit limit back to normal, you will need to wait 24 hours before the measure wears off.

Out of these three, self-exclusion absolutely requires the support team's involvement. It generally lasts up to 6 months, during which you will have no access to the casino whatsoever. Then, you must express your desire to resume gambling activity.
