As the owner of Mister B's Auto Center in Woodbury, NJ, I recently reached out to RBAC to inquire about a loan to help strengthen our business and make a balloon mortgage payment this summer. I had the pleasure of meeting with William and the TA officer shortly after our first phone conversation. They asked about the business and observed our daily operations while offering up a few suggestions. I told them I was open to ideas on improving our business and soon I had a written report to work with suggestions on office and outdoor signage changes, website changes, and suggestions to improve our current marketing methods. I was also introduced to one of their marketing consultants, John, who had me moving in a positive direction by making some simple changes to my Clipper ads and website, and helping with the layout and design of new signage in office and outside. I was very pleased but the best was yet to come. They suggested a move from an expensive snail mail program that I do 5-7 times a year to an e-mail program called Chimp Mail. It was amazing to see how easy this is to do and soon with their help I had my first e-mail blast at New Years. We are looking forward to tracking our results and using this program to save important dollars and grow our business this year.

Previously, playing against other people could be a relatively painful and technically primitive process. If the dealer spoke at all (instead of simply relying on pre-written text prompts) they would tend to use the same few dull, pre-recorded phrases over and over again. Real Time Gaming has turned this concept of its head by offering high-quality video feeds of dealers who respond to what is going on in the game in front of them. This takes players as close to the experience of playing in a real casino as is possible without actually being there.
