No, it is not. Free casino games are basically the same games that you can play in real-money online casinos, but without real money involved. When you load any of the game, you are given a certain amount of virtual currency, which doesn't have any real value. You can then play and increase your balance; however, you can never cash out the credits you accumulate in the game.

There are two kinds of live dealer games on online casino apps: shared tables and exclusive tables. Shared tables occur when third-party gaming providers run live dealer games for sportsbook and casino operators. They are shared in the sense that the users at that table can be from multiple operators. Essentially you might be on FanDuel's app playing against users on DraftKings app at the same casino table. Weird, huh?

If you love online casino, this is a great feature within the DraftKings casino ecosystem.

There are some exceptions, though. Some game providers allow casinos to choose from multiple versions of the same game, each with a different RTP. This means that the game you play for real money can theoretically have a lower RTP than the free version. This doesn't apply to all game providers, but it's definitely worth pointing out. We suggest checking the RTP in your selected online casino just to make sure.

The best casino sites in the USA have a large selection of games for players to choose from. The graphics are the best in the industry, and the sounds are clear, without exception. Betting in the best online sites can be lucrative because of the great bonuses, promotions, and jackpots.

Online casino development is one of the most money consuming steps and it requires intensive cooperation between you and the developer. You will be asked to choose among gambling software providers and payment methods to be available for your visitors. Live dealer solutions normally come in a dedicated package, and so do slots equipped with progressive jackpots – all of these add to your costs. This development stage is worth around $20,000 (and greater) and it strongly depends on which options you want your casino to be fitted with. Note that a mobile version, visual design and some other important elements come as integral parts of larger budget items and are thus not itemised specifically.
