My wife and her sister both have a sweet tooth, so they were very excited about the shop. Because there are only a few parking spaces in front of the shop, when we got there, they were full. We had to park our car a little far and walk back to the shop. But that was OK because the delicious chocolate was waiting for us. The shop was also full of people, so we had to stand in line for some time. But that was OK because it had free samples. The chocolate had many different flavors, and white chocolate was my favorite. When my wife and her sister were waiting in line, I went around to take pictures. There was also a small restaurant in the shop, and it only sold drinks, like coffee.
